The fog has finally lifted on the distinction between residence at the time of appointment and actual residence within DOD (as the result of [REDACTED] checkout with a Mr. Wolfsperger, Director of International Div., Civilian Personnel).

DOD gives each man going overseas a new appointment, irrespective of whether he is transferred out of the Pentagon or recruited some place in the U. S. for an immediate overseas assignment. Accordingly, although BOB Circular pegs actual residence, unless otherwise designated, to physical residence at the time of appointment or transfer as applicable, in the case of DOD the term "appointment" means assignment of an employee overseas (either upon recruitment or transfer of a DOD employee) and "transfer" in A-56 refers to movements within CONUS as it is applied within DOD.

Our source specifically stated DOD would normally return an employee sent overseas from the Pentagon to his local residence of record before going overseas, not the place he came from when he was first recruited.

FYI, DOD plans to seek legislative authority which would expand the number of situs options that their employees can now designate.
